Comment

Fund performance:

AAQ was up an estimated +0.33% in October (+1.75% YTD). The best opportunities came from the Global Macro managers, that contributed 41 bps with all funds reporting positive returns. Overall, Global Macro managers were long in raw materials exporting countries' currencies, in Emerging equities vs. US equities, in commodities and mid-term inflation (yield curve steepening). Convertibles corrected at month end; however, we had exited this strategy with profits by mid-month. Equity Neutral was negative at month-end with widely spread individual performances. The remaining strategies contributed marginally to the fund's performance, with returns of roughly +/- 5 bps.

In October, we decreased our exposure to an Australian Relative Value fund and to a US Global Macro that were underperforming. We also switched our investment in a US Systematic fund from the conservative to the moderate class, having confirmed that it rides trend changes such as October's well (up +0.77%).
